Secretary with their date of despatch and brief index of contents, so that in like manner I may see if I can find a clue to the method by which he succeeded in intercepting letters which would have at once revealed his misdeeds

I was informed on Saturday last by the auditor, Mr R Raghunatha Rao, sent by the comptroller, that in September 1905, the comptroller, Mr Basu had sent a D O letter to the General & Revenue Secretary stating his suspicion that there was something wrong with my office and I am interested to Know whether any action was taken on ~~that~~ the letter

I should also like to see a copy of Mr Basu's letter as it is of importance to discover the means by which the late writer succeeded for so long in escaping detection.
